DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

Figure 4 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2, 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamanaka (U.S. Patent No. 3586820).

Regarding claim 1, Yamanaka shows a heater [heating rod 7] which may fit within the cigarette receiving portion of a electrically heated smoking device and a base having an interface surface on which the smoking device may rest [heating board 5]. Yamanaka does not expressly disclose the heater can generate temperature above 100°C. However, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that the electric heater is capable of reaching temperature above 100°C.

Regarding claim 2, an air passage way is deemed inherent in the device of Yamanaka because the pressure of the heated vapors within the cigarette receiving portion would take the path of least resistance to the ambient air even if to do so the pressure caused the smoking device to lift creating such a passage.

Regarding claims 5-6, as discussed above for claim 1 and further in view of the skill of one having ordinary skill in the art of heating elements. At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art of manufacturing heating elements to produce the claimed coil configuration because eclectically resistive heating is well known in the art and the coil configuration is merely a matter of design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-4 and 7-9 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1791

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
